

Mahmudkhoja Behbudiy is a Leading Representative of the Uzbek National Revival

Achilov Firdavs Nasritdinovich

Independent researcher at the Samarkand State Institute of Foreign Languages

Abstract: The article analyzes Mahmudkhodja Behbudiy's ideas encouraging young people to acquire knowledge and his socio-philosophical views on the need for them to study secular sciences. The contribution of the enlightened writer to the development of the culture of the Uzbek national revival is also analyzed scientifically and theoretically.

Keywords: culture of national awakening, thinker, neo-Nazi, enlightener, national awakening, national liberation movements.

This is an open-access article under the CC-BY 4.0 license

Mahmudkhodja Behbudiy, as one of the leading figures of the Uzbek national revival, emphasized the importance of education and enlightenment in his works. His teachings are of great importance in raising the spiritual image of young people today. Mahmudkhodja Behbudiy, emphasizing the need to change the Uzbek people's understanding of their identity, culture, history, and their focus on science and enlightenment, considered high spirituality and knowledge as the main factor in the upbringing of youth. He understood that education is not only about acquiring knowledge, but also about the role of properly educating a person and ensuring his spiritual development.

Mahmudkhodja Behbudiy's ideas in this regard can serve as a basis for directing young people to productive and useful activities. Preservation and development of national identity: Mahmudkhodja Behbudiy considered it important to respect the historical and cultural heritage and traditions of the Uzbek people, to understand their nationality. Today's youth should strengthen their identity by studying their culture and history, respecting their national values. Mahmudkhodja Behbudiy's national ideas are a guide for today's youth and are of great importance in remembering the historical achievements of the Uzbek people and developing their culture in the future. Patriotism and responsibility to the people and homeland: Mahmudkhodja Behbudiy emphasized the development of the people and love for the country in his works. Patriotism occupied a central place in his teachings, calling on young people to love their country, serve it, and fight for freedom and independence. The youth of Uzbekistan must demonstrate love, respect and dedication to their homeland. Mahmudkhodja Behbudiy's patriotic ideas play an important role in developing in young people a sense of serving their country and working in the interests of the nation. Mahmudkhodja Behbudiy considered moral and spiritual values to be a priority. In his teachings, values such as justice, correctness, honesty and humanity play an important role in educating young people. Today, it is necessary to develop moral and spiritual aspects in order to raise the spiritual image of young people. Mahmudkhodja Behbudiy's teachings in this area encourage young people to be honest, fair and spiritually pure people. Social activity and responsibility: Mahmudkhodja Behbudiy called on young people not only for personal development, but also to benefit society. He encouraged young people to be active in social life and contribute to the development of society. In today's global world, our youth must carry out their activities not only in pursuit of personal interests, but also in order to benefit society and feel social responsibility.

For today's modern youth, this teaching of Mahmudkhodja Behbudi requires the application of the development of science and technology in their activities, the study of global research and innovations. Mahmudkhodja Behbudi's teaching, focused on socio-political, spiritual and moral ideas, is of incomparable importance in raising the spiritual image of our youth. His teachings encourage young people to science, enlightenment, national identity, patriotism, preservation of moral values, and social activism. These ideas serve as an important source of guidance for today's youth in creating their own future and contributing to the development of the country. The teachings of Mahmudkhodja Behbudi left to the youth are based on the ideas of national awakening and enlightenment.

Mahmudkhodja Behbudiy considered it important to study modern science and technology, to adopt innovative approaches. He encouraged young people to be open-minded towards global scientific achievements and to strive for innovation. Community and social responsibility: Mahmudkhodja Behbudiy called on young people to serve society. He also emphasized participation in public affairs, serving one's country, and ensuring justice and peace in society. Mahmudkhodja Behbudiy's teachings served to understand the identity of the Uzbek nation, to develop science and culture, and to encourage young people to be responsible and socially active in society. His teachings are still relevant for the spiritual and moral upliftment of today's youth.

LITERATURE

1. Mirziyoyev Sh.M. Milliy tiklanishdan-milliy yuksalish sari. 4-jild. – Toshkent: O‘zbekiston, 2020. – 452 b.
2. Qosimov Begali. Milliy uyg‘onish. – T: Ma’naviyat, 2002.
3. Qosimov B. Behbudiy Karvonboshi. “Yoshlik” jurnali, 1990 yil, 1-son.
4. Qosimov B. Maslakdoshlar. Behbudiy. Ajziy. Fitrat, – T., 1994.